Based on article 10 of Directive 88/379/EC and on Directive 91/155/EC, safety data sheets for finished products are not mandatory.

Construction parts such as attachments, implants, copings, etc are finished products as referred to in §3 of the chemicals law.

§3 Definitions

'Finished products' are substances or preparations that received a particular shape, surface or form during fabrication, which determine their function more than their chemical composition, as such or as a compound substance.
